2.3 Resource sharing

For compact designs where area is the primary requirement, search for resources that have similar counterparts in other modules that can be brought to a global point in the hierarchy and shared between multiple functional areas.

See the example in Chapter 2.3.